BRITAIN FACES SHUTDOWN OF HER INDUSTRY

FACTORIES REPORT CHAOS CAUSED BY COAL CRISIS

BY TOM WILLIAMS

London, Feb. 8 (AP)—Britain prepared tonight for a major industrial shutdown amid warnings by a labor spokesman that the coal crisis threatened an end to the labor government and "socialism in our time."

While Emanuel Shinwell, fuel minister, declared "complete disaster" awaited Britain if industry and the public failed to carry out his sweeping conservation measures, almost chaotic conditions were reported among industries in the huge industrial belts about London, Manchester and Birmingham where 4,000,000 will be thrown out of work beginning at midnight Sunday.

Power Cut Off

Shinwell's order halting electric power to industry in the biggest export-producing areas of England and cutting off current from domestic users—including homes, theaters, stores, offices and restaurants—for five hours daily, sent puzzled factory managers into hurried conferences. Their worry was to find some way, if possible, to minimize the effect of the power blackout.

There were hurried conferences in Whitehall, where the government offices are concentrated, as officials tussled with their gravest crisis since the labor government came to power.

Prime Minister Attlee promised a statement to parliament on Monday, and many political forecasters said Conservative Chief, Winston Churchill, might pick that day as the time to pelt the government with his long-threatened motion of censure.

Attorney General Sir Hartley Shawcross, speaking in Lancashire, center of Great Britain's giant cotton industry which will be closed, solemnly declared:

"Certainly if we don't succeed in overcoming this situation and improving coal production the labor government will fail and there will be an end to any idea of socialism in our time."

The whole situation is just as serious as it was in 1939 and 1940, when Britain waged almost unarmed defense against Hitler, he said.

News papers critical of Shinwell, under fire from Laborites as well as Conservatives, told a news conference the government had to have public cooperation in the conservation measures or "in the next ten days we shall find ourselves in a position of complete disaster."

By "complete disaster," he said he meant "we should not have any fuel or electricity at all."

Three Conservative provincial papers, the Press and Journal of Aberdeen, the Morning News of Plymouth and the Cardiff Western Mail, declared in effect that "Shinwell must go" from the cabinet.

London newspapers also were critical, even the Labor paper Daily Herald declaring that several of Attlee's cabinet "deceive themselves."

Mist criticism dealt with Shinwell's alleged failure to forestall the crisis with effective action in time, and with failure to properly acquaint the public of the situation.

Mayor Loses Bulge Battle At Dearborn

Detroit, Feb. 8 (AP)—The "battle of the bulge" in suburban Dearborn between Mayor Orville L. Hubbard and city firemen, in which each accused the other of growing too fat, ended in circuit court today with the mayor the loser.

Judge James E. Chenot granted the firemen a permanent injunction against Mayor Hubbard, Fire Chief Stanley Herdick and other city officials.

It restrains them from changing the firemen's work schedule from the present 24 hours on duty and 24 hours off to 12 hours on and 12 hours off. The injunction also restrains the mayor and city officials from removing cots and refreshment facilities from station houses.

The row over expanding waistlines began when Mayor Hubbard sanctioned the fire chief's order that the city 125 firemen have one-half hour of calisthenics a day.

He added the firemen were "growing fat and lazy."

Burned up, the firemen retorted that Hubbard, who weighs 210 pounds, was "not exactly sylph-like."

They charged the mayor was trying to ridicule them into agreeing to the 12 hours on-12 hours off shift and went to court.

Edward N. Barnard, attorney for Local 412, Dearborn Fire Fighters Association (AFL), charged Hubbard was making the firemen "pawns in politics."

"Just because there aren't enough fires in Dearborn, Hubbard wants them polishing door handles in the city hall and cleaning rubbish from alleys," said Barnard.

SOLDIERS SEAL OFF JERUSALEM

Holy Land Protected Against Outbreaks Of Violence

BY CARTER L. DAVIDSON
Jerusalem, Feb. 8 (AP)—British troops sealed off approximately three-fourths of Jerusalem to civilian traffic today in what the military described as part of a "master plan" to bulwark the Holy Land against fresh outbreaks of terrorism.

In London Arab delegates to the Palestine conference studied the latest British proposal for settling the Holy Land problem. The plan was reported to call for admission of 100,000 European Jews to Palestine—a step one Arab statesman said would "mean war."

British troops, moving swiftly in heavy mid-day traffic, closed in with barbed wire four "security compounds" established in some cases by the earlier eviction of 1,000 Jewish residents of Jerusalem from their apartments.

British civilians were confined to the security compounds. A government spokesman said the effect was to virtually restrict movements of all of Jerusalem's 130,000 Jews, Arabs and British until "proper passes have been issued."

Money Turns Up All Over House At DeForest, Wis.

De Forest, Wis., Feb. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Clemente Wolfe doesn't believe in fairies but almost everywhere she looks—under a pillow, behind a mirror, beneath a vase—she finds money.

Dollar bills have turned up in cupboards, little stacks of silver on shelves, and half dollars tucked away everywhere imaginable. In the last week Mrs. Wolfe has found between $60 and $70 and she still is finding more.

Mrs. Wolfe blames it all on the more than 60 unexpected guests who spent from two to three days with her in a recent blizzard. They came by the carloads and finally by the busloads as their vehicles became snowbound.

When the guests finally were rescued they tried to pay their hostess but she would have none of it.

"But I guess some of them didn't listen," sighed Mrs. Wolfe as she lifted a dish and found a couple more dollars hidden away.

Ice Stops Water At Niagara Falls

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 8 (AP)—The flow of water over the American falls dwindled to about 10 per cent of normal today as continuing near-zero weather piled up a huge ice jam above the falls and froze the 163-foot cataract almost solid.

Niagara Falls Power company employees have been dynamiting the jam in an effort to keep the hydraulic canal clear.

J. J. HERBERT IS NOMINATED FOR REGENCY

MANISTIQUE LAWYER WINS OVER OSBORN OF THE SOO

BY JACK I. GREEN

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 8 (AP)—Michigan Republicans' most lukewarm state convention in years today nominated Kenneth M. Stevens, Detroit attorney, and J. Joseph Herbert, Manistique attorney and incumbent, for regents of the University of Michigan.

In the only contests of the day, Stevens defeated Richard C. Krause, Rockford industrialist, by a vote of 918 to 606.

Herbert, completing his first term, turned back the bid of George A. Osborn, Sault Ste. Marie publisher and son of former Governor Chase S. Osborn, himself a one-time regent. Most Wayne county votes went to Herbert, who won 968 to 549.

Stevens' victory resulted from Wayne county's almost complete domination of the convention voting. He lost only seven of the county's 489 votes, while Upper Peninsula counties bid for Wayne support for Herbert by swinging to Stevens. Krause took his votes from western and central counties, largely.

Sigler Stays Out
Governor Kim Sigler kept hands off the convention decisions, resisting repeated pleas by delegations to settle the fight between Osborn and Herbert.

All other candidates for places on the April 1 spring ballot were nominated by acclamation.

Chief Justice Leland W. Carr, and Associate Justices Henry M. Butzel and John R. Dethmers for the state supreme court.

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott for state superintendent of public instruction.

Clark L. Brody, of Lansing, and E. B. More, of Marshall, for the state board of agriculture, governing body of Michigan State College.

Mrs. Louise M. Durham, of Battle Creek, for the state board of education.

All were incumbents except More. The Saginaw delegation withdrew the name of Emerson J. Poag, of that county, for state board of agriculture.

Wagner Re-elected
John A. Wagner, of Battle Creek, who became chairman of the Republican State Central Committee in an anti-boss fight, was re-elected to that post for a second term without opposition.

Mrs. Ray C. Hooker, of Mt. Pleasant, was re-elected vice-chairman.

The 1,533 delegates adopting a resolution asserting the state's $50,000,000 veterans trust fund "must be inviolate," a reference to the suggestion of municipal and school officials that it be spent to partially remove and anticipate $83,000,000 state deficit next year.

Evading a demand of young Republicans for a resolution endorsing a state fair employment practice law, the convention approved a resolution insisting that people of all races and colors "have equality of responsibility and opportunity in the educational, economic and political life" of the state.

The state G. O. P. put forth its bid for the next Republican

Aged Woman Killed When Cars Collide Near Adrian; 4 Hurt

Adrian, Mich., Feb. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Eva Hangan, 83, Goshen, Ind., was killed and four persons were injured when two automobiles collided in a blinding snowstorm at nearby Onsted today.

One of the cars, carrying a quantity of commercial alcohol in a trailer, burst into flames at the impact.

Simultaneously, shotgun shells in the same car exploded.

The car's two men occupants, however, were removed to safety. Each suffered a broken leg in the crash.

Mrs. Hangan in Michigan visiting friends, was killed. She was riding in the other car and was on her way to Adrian to visit a daughter.

Two companions of Mrs. Hangan were injured and brought to a Tecumseh hospital. They were James K. Nelson, superintendent of Onsted high school, and his wife.

Occupants of the second car were Richard Neeley, 19, and Ted Cobey, both of Cambridge Junction.

Mrs. Hangan's body was taken to a funeral home in Adrian.

Senator Vandenberg Not Candidate For Presidency, He Says

BY JACK I. GREEN

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 8 (AP)—While appreciative of the "compliment," United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) emphasized to newsmen today that he was not a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Said the Michigan's senior senator: "I am not a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, I don't expect to be and I have no wish to be, but a man would be entirely numb if he were insensible to the compliment the suggestion implies."

Later, leaders at the Michigan spring Republican state convention, side-tracked a resolution endorsing Vandenberg for president.

There were reports, however, the leadership intended to keep the Michigan delegation tied sub rosa for Vandenberg and place him in position for presidential maneuvering.

Vandenberg's statement regarding the presidential question preceded his address to the convention in which he made his first speech on domestic issues in two years.

He emphasized to newsmen that his return to the domestic stage after long attention to foreign affairs did not mean a switch of interest.

"I can't be the senator from Michigan and president of the Senate and continue intimate day-to-day labor with the peace mission," Vandenberg said. "A man in my position is not needed on routine matters, but at the major points and I'll still be there at the major points."

There was a movement afoot to elect Vandenberg chairman of the Michigan delegation at the 1948 Republican national convention, a move which would increase the senator's strategic position. Normally, the state's governor would be the chairman.

Vandenberg declared in his address that international peace is not likely unless America can achieve domestic peace.

"It is sheer suicide," he asserted, "for labor and capital to ever be at each other's throats; and it is wanton neglect of the public welfare, including the true welfare of every man who toils, to longer ignore the need for rational labor-management relationship."

Suggesting the need for "some new law" to strengthen labor-management cooperation, the president of the United States Senate proposed that:

"Strikes against the government, or summary strikes against public health and safety, like and other civil rebellion, cannot be tolerated;

Jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts must stop; and every responsible party must be effectively responsible for the integrity of contracts as are their employers."

"The new monopoly-power of labor leadership must be tempered with greater rank-and-file democracy;

"Violence and force must be as illegal here as in every phase of life under law in America."

This stand by Taft, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee and a member of the finance committee, collided directly with the announced intention of Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the House ways and means committee to rush through a tax bill making reductions retroactive to Jan. 1. Knutson's committee has ordered brief hearings beginning Feb. 19.

Thwarted Runaway Of Teen-Age Pair Causes Two Deaths

St. Louis, Feb. 8 (AP)—J. Vincent Reardon, 58, prominent St. Louis business man, and 13-year-old Michael A. D'Arcy were dead tonight as a result of a series of tragic circumstances involving Reardon's 14-year-old daughter, Mary.

Reardon was shot through the head early today as he was driving home with the two teen-agers who had been thwarted in an attempt to run away together. The shot caused Reardon to lose control of the car and it plunged into a ditch beside a county road, D'Arcy receiving injuries from which he died late today. Reardon was dead upon arrival at a hospital. The girl received head lacerations.

St. Louis County Coroner Arnold J. Willmann quoted the girl as saying she shot her father with a .25-caliber German Mauser automatic pistol which young D'Arcy had brought along.

MT. CLEMENS WORKERS GET NO OVERTIME

UNIONS CONTINUE $4,800,000,000 PAY BATTLE

Detroit, Feb. 8 (AP)—The momentous Mt. Clemens Pottery Co. case was thrown out of a federal court today but the $4,800,000,000 portal-to-portal pay battle still continued.

U. S. District Judge Frank A. Picard, ruling against portal time for the pottery workers, dismissed the Mt. Clemens case with a denial of damages.

Industry hailed the verdict. But the immediate reaction of CIO labor, mainly responsible for the avalanche of portal suits across the nation, was that the fight wouldn't stop here.

Time Too Trifling
Ahead also was a likely final determination from the supreme court, itself responsible for the federal court's attention to the portal theory in the Mt. Clemens dispute.

Judge Picard held the pottery workers' portal time was too trifling for damages.

The court said further industry should not be held liable for portal claims prior to last June 10. That was the day the supreme court set forth the portal theory in the Mt. Clemens case.

The National Association of Manufacturers, through President Earl Bunting, said Judge Picard's verdict presumably meant the "vast majority" of portal suits "no longer have any standing."

At the same time Bunting called on Congress for clarification of the fair labor standards act to avoid further confusion.

Similar remarks also were heard in Congress.

On the other hand the CIO's United Auto Workers' Union, which alone has filed nearly $1,000,000,000 in portal suits, held its ground.

Issue Not Settled
Union Secretary Maurice Sugar said the Auto Union would not withdraw any of its suits.

Sugar said Judge Picard's decision "would not necessarily apply to other cases." He also called attention to the likelihood of a supreme court test.

There was no immediate comment from the auto industry's "big three"—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—from whom more than a half billion dollars in portal pay has been asked.

The government, in entering the Mt. Clemens case, said the suit would be carried to the supreme court no matter what Picard ruled.

Attorney Edward Lamb, who brought the Mt. Clemens suit originally, warned industry the issue was not settled. He said the Mt. Clemens case was not a "truly portal-to-portal case" in view of "limiting facts."

The Mt. Clemens case, Lamb said, was not comparable in the

Menominee Harbor Work Disapproved

Washington, D. C.—(WNS)—In a report to the House Public Works Committee, Army Engineers have reported unfavorably on further work at government expense in the Menominee river and harbor in Michigan, the Army Engineers said yesterday.

Improvements authorized by Congress were completed in 1938 and in 1945. Further improvements were authorized by the old House rivers and harbors committee and an Act of Congress. Cost of improvements to the government to Sept. 30, 1944, was $461,900 for new work and $491,000 for maintenance.

portal theory with instances in steel, autos and other industry. Today's court decision was described as "far-reaching" by Frank E. Cooper, a pottery company attorney.

Cooper said it "clearly points out" that last June's supreme court verdict "furnishes no basis for the many fantastic claims by labor in portal suits."

"Judge Picard's decision makes it plain," Cooper added, "that the judgment of the supreme court did not hold what some people were led to think had been decided."

No Figure Set

Judge Picard held that workers are not entitled to any portal time except when they are going to their jobs. This time in the Mt. Clemens case, his opinion continued, never amounted to more than eight minutes and he held this amount "de minimis," or too trifling to merit damages.

The court did not attempt in his decision to define how much time must accrue before the "de minimis" doctrine becomes ineffective. However, he said that if the supreme court ever sets such a figure, industry should not be liable before June 10, 1946.

Judge Picard suggested furthermore that any portal time under "20 to 25" minutes is customarily considered trifling in industry and should not require compensation.

He added: Let us not be understood as holding that all portal to portal suits should be dismissed. There may be, and perhaps are, many instances where walking and the preliminary activity of time consumed is of such an amount as to call for compensation that the worker is not now receiving. But this is not one.

The court gave as examples uniformed plant policemen who might be required to stand inspection before beginning work.

Judge Picard locked the doors on his crowded chambers before releasing his written opinion to the press. He barred all except accredited news, radio and magazine representatives from the room, including interested attorneys who sought admission.

Suit Started In 1941

Judge Picard began his press conference at 1:50 p. m. by reading excerpts from the opinion that he considered most important.

He extracted a promise that he would not be quoted except in the words of the written opinion and then proceeded to explain in non-legal terminology what the opinion meant.

His staff worked through two nights to have the Mt. Clemens decision ready for today.

The opinion rendered today was much more far-reaching than Judge Picard's previous ruling in the Mt. Clemens case.

The pottery workers sued for overtime in 1941. A master in chancery, Donald F. Quaife, appointed by Judge Picard, found that the employees were not entitled to any compensation.

Judge Picard in 1943 overruled the master and awarded the employees nominal damages for overtime. In so doing, he discounted all portal time.

The U. S. circuit court of appeals in Cincinnati reversed Judge Picard and held with the master that the employees were not entitled to overtime.

The supreme court held similarly but added that Judge Picard must consider the portal time in computing overtime. They sent the case back to him last June with instructions to compute the portal time, if any, and to assess it as "de minimis" or otherwise "in the light of the realities of the industrial world."

Today's 29-page opinion followed public hearings in which the national CIO fought for portal pay while the U. S. government and the National Association of Manufacturers opposed it.

Compromise Sought To Save Truman's Tariff Cut Program

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Two leading Republican senators—Vandenberg of Michigan and Millikin of Colorado—proposed a compromise today in an effort to save the administration's reciprocal trade program from being ridden by congress.

Under their plan, President Truman would take upon himself authority to overrule any tariff cuts that damage American industry.

Vandenberg, foreign relations chairman, and Millikin, chairman of the Republican conference (consisting of all Republican senators), indicated confidence that President Truman will agree to the compromise.

They acted to forestall a move by a number of their G.O.P. colleagues to change the trade program by legislation. Leading house Republicans have signified their intention to try to reclaim some of the broad authority given to the state department.

Under existing law, the department can cut tariffs as much as 50 per cent in return for concessions from other nations.

Intermediate Scouts

Nadine Lester, Rose Marie Guertin, Charlene Winter, Mary Fay LaVallee, Aldia Maynard and Patsy Guertin.

Two new members, Marilyn and Marlene Winter, were invested into the Intermediate Scouts and received pins.

Entertainment was furnished by Joyce Bonifas, Faith Lester and Jeneane Tatrow and consisted of games, singing and dancing. Refreshments were served by Nadine Lester, Charlene Winter and Patsy Guertin.

Plans were made to hold the Scouts' first birthday party Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Marcella Winter.

Birthday Party

Nineteen friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beaudre Sunday to celebrate the ninth birthday of their son Richard. The boys played games indoors after which they enjoyed a delicious lunch. Richard received many useful and pretty gifts.

Tommy, four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tatrow, was taken Tuesday to the St. Francis hospital, suffering with pneumonia.

While householders sought candles and oil lamps—in most cases impossible to find—to bridge the five-hour daily gap in electric supply for heating and lighting, Shinwell faced an hour-long barrage from nearly 100 reporters.

He declined to estimate how long the power blackout would last, although yesterday he said it might be for three or four days. At one point today he indicated it might be a week. Reporters left the conference in the belief it might be two weeks.

Shinwell said he was dismissing for the present any question of punitive action against non-cooperators.

Adult Education Organizes Chorus

A mother-singers chorus will be organized Monday night at 7:15, Room 101, Senior high school, by the Adult Education School of Escanaba. While primarily intended for PTA members, all women are cordially welcome.

There are several of these choruses already in existence in various spots in Lower Michigan.

Miss Jessie Wick, Senior high school instructor, will direct the gatherings, which will be held every Monday night at 7:15. Applicants are asked to use the west entrance of the high school.

Registrations are still being taken in the Adult Education drafting course being taught by Erwin Wolf on Monday nights at 7:15, Room 151 at the Junior high school. Individual instruction will be given each student, to cover any phase of draftsmanship.

Seney

Seney, Mich.—The young people have organized a cribbage club. The first meeting was held Saturday evening at the home of Peggy Riordan. Prizes were won by Bruce McArthur and Garnet Boggs. Those belonging are Mark and Sue Ketola, Bruce and Avis McArthur, Garnet Boggs, Pat Saddler, Mary Ann Peikie and Peggy Riordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Tovey and Mrs. Riordan were Manistique callers Saturday. Prizes in cribbage last week were won by Pat Sadler, Albert Nelson, Mrs. Sadler and Mrs. Carlson are hostesses this week.

Educators Attend Training Conference Held In Marquette

An adult education in-service training conference sponsored by the Association of Upper Peninsula Directors of Adult Education, the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Northern Michigan College of Education, and the state department of public instruction, attended by perhaps 75 Upper Michigan directors of adult education, was held yesterday in Marquette under the general chairmanship of C. S. Clucas of Northern State.

The address of welcome was delivered by H. A. Tape, president of NMCE.

Otto Yntema, director of Adult Education of Western Michigan College of Education, Kalamazoo, delivered a talk on the principles of adult education.

After a forum discussion, led by Don Dolan, also from Western Michigan College of Education at Kalamazoo; Everett Sopp, assistant director of the University of Michigan extension division, delivered another talk on principles of adult education.

Whereupon the gathered scattered into small groups and discussed the following subjects: Home and Family Living Education; Foundational Education; Vocational and Cultural Education; Social and Civic Education; Vocational and Occupational Education.

The conference was held primarily for teachers of adult education and to discuss various techniques for the benefit of those teachers. As a sharp and graphic demonstration of the techniques discussed, the conference made use of the same techniques, for informal education, such as the small group discussion method.

In order to clarify matters, Howard McCuskey of the education department of the University of Michigan gave a summary and an evaluation of the conference. He stressed the importance of social-civic, home-and-family-living education at the present time, and encouraged the attendant

HELD FOR ATTACK

Iron Mountain—Gilbert J. Daniels, 25, married and the father of three children, was arraigned before James C. Perino, municipal judge, on charges of assault with intent to rape and bound over to circuit court on a $2,000 bond following his confession to city police and Prosecutor Brown that he attempted to attack Miss Edna Freeman, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Freeman, near the von Platen-Fox Co. on the night of Sept. 20, 1946.

The young Iron Mountain man, a Navy veteran, was arrested shortly after Miss Freeman, riding a Transit bus with a girl friend, recognized Daniels as the man who attempted to attack her last fall. Upon leaving the bus, Miss Freeman and her friend, who knew Daniels, notified city police, who arrested Daniels at his home.

Whiston Boys Handling Big Real Estate Deals

FRANK M. WHISTON

ARTHUR S. WHISTON

Two Escanaba boys who have made good in the big city are the Whiston brothers—Frank and Arthur—who now operate a real estate business in Chicago, selling and managing skyscraper office buildings, apartment houses and other valuable properties.

The Whiston boys broke into the news recently when they disposed of the 25-story Tower building, at Madison street and Michigan avenue, for an all-cash consideration of $2,300,000. Purchaser of the building, one of the two original Chicago skyscrapers, was Lucien LeLong, Inc., international cosmetics firm.

Built in 1900 for Montgomery Ward & Company as a 12-story building with a 25-story tower, the Tower Building vied for height in Chicago with the old Masonic Temple. In 1920 at a cost of $1,000,000 an additional four stories were added to the 12-story part of the structure.

The LeLong, which has offices in Paris, the United States and Canada, will occupy a portion of the Tower building. Frank M. Whiston & Company will manage the property.

Born In Escanaba
The Whiston boys, the sons of Michael and Mary Siel Whiston, were born in Escanaba and spent their early years here. Frank is 52 years old and Arthur is 39.

Frank moved to Chicago in 1919 and entered the real estate business with Dibles and Manierre. In 1931, he went with the Estate of Marshall Field as manager of the Conway building, and in 1933 he became manager of the 40-story Pittsfield building, one of the country's finest medical buildings. In 1943, he formed a partnership with his brother, Arthur, and his son, Robert F. Whiston, for the operation of a real estate business under the name of Frank M. Whiston & Company. Among the properties managed by the company are the Pittsfield building, 700 North Michigan Avenue building, 720

North Michigan Avenue building and the Tower building.

Active In Chicago
Frank has been long active in real estate, civic and association affairs in Chicago. He has served as president of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers and the Wabash Avenue District association, vice president of the Central District committee, vice president of the Chicago District Golf association, director of the Michigan Avenue National bank, Chicago Building Managers association and Civic Federation of Chicago. He is also a member of President Truman's Conference on National Fire Prevention and the Chicago City Planning Advisory Board. He is a past president of the Edgewater Golf club and a member of the Chicago Athletic association.

In 1920, Frank M. Whiston married Frances Mary Becker of Chicago. They have two sons, Robert and Jerome Paul.

Arthur (Dutch) Whiston acquired his nickname in his native city of Escanaba, because of his resemblance to the young fellow in the Dutch Boy paint ad. He attended the Jefferson and Franklin schools and was graduated from the Escanaba high school in 1924. Later, he attended the Cleveland Commercial college, and was employed for awhile by the Delta Contracting company and the Chicago and North Western railway.

In 1928, Arthur was assistant manager of the Corporation Trust company office in Detroit, and in 1929 became associated with Farnum, Winter & Company, stock brokers, in Chicago. He started in the real estate field in 1930 with the Marshall Field estate as assistant manager of the Marshall Field Garden Apartment Homes.

Get Out the Vote

ONLY one week of campaigning remains before the primary election to be held Feb. 17 at which time two nominees will be selected for circuit judge of the 25th Judicial circuit for the general election to be held in April.

Delta county's interest in the primary election is accelerated by the candidacy of Attorney Glenn Jackson of Gladstone, one of five candidates in the race.

Attorney Jackson has the unqualified endorsement of the Delta county bar association and enthusiastic support of a wide variety of Delta county citizens who know Mr. Jackson well and are cognizant of the importance of the circuit court.

Mr. Jackson's legal capabilities are outstanding. Moreover, he is a keen judge of humanity, a vital necessity for proper administration of justice.

To secure Mr. Jackson's nomination at the primary election, however, it is highly important that there be a heavy vote in Delta county where Mr. Jackson and his capabilities are best known. Everyone interested in securing a man of outstanding quality to head the judicial circuit in the years ahead should make it a point to vote on Feb. 17 and to assist in getting others to the polls.

Mr. Jackson, of course, will receive a top-heavy vote in Delta county but it is probable that other candidates in the field likewise will receive substantial majorities in their own counties. Obviously then the main task confronting the Jackson supporters is to secure the heavier poll of ballots possible in Delta county.

The importance of this election cannot be overemphasized. No political job in the district bears greater responsibility than that of the circuit judge.

Time to Retrench

THE war is over, but still the federal government proposes to spend $4 for every $1 spent before Pearl Harbor. President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget for the next fiscal year indicates.

Despite fervent promises by President Truman that the government would be streamlined to effect economies, little has been accomplished in this direction. Senator Byrd recently reported that it now takes 1,150 federal agencies to do the work that was done by 190 prior to 1935.

There is a wasteful duplication of effort. Virtually every governmental agency has its own legal department, although Attorney General Clark has pointed out that money could be saved by letting his department take care of legal matters. Twenty-nine agencies are engaged in lending government money, 34 are doing land acquisition work, 56 gather statistics, 16 are interested in wildlife preservation, and so it goes.

Someone has figured it out that it costs every person gainfully employed in this country an average of $600 a year to run the federal government. Back in the raking, boondoggling days of 1935, there were 720,000 on the regular federal payroll. But now there are 2,270,000 payrollers. That's a million too many, at least.

Radio Noises

BECAUSE practically every home has at least one radio, the city's program designed to eliminate local radio interference generally receives full cooperation from the public.

Many of the radio noises created by electrical devices are unknown to the sources responsible for such disturbances. When the trouble is reported to them, they invariably correct it promptly by securing condensers for the machines and devices that cause the radio interference.

As far as we know, there has never been a penalty imposed in Escanaba for violation of the city's radio ordinance which, of course, speaks well for the degree of cooperation by the general public in combatting local disturbances. The ordinance has been in effect for more than 16 years.

Not all of the interference comes from the homes. Much of it is created from time to time by faulty power lines, wires and tree branches scraping across electric lines, etc. In such cases, the city utility department is responsible for correction and is anxious to eliminate the source of trouble as rapidly as possible.

The radio trouble is not a problem for Escanaba exclusively. Other cities of the Upper Peninsula are confronted with the same thing. Ishpeming's city council just voted $300 to help eliminate radio disturbances there and the City of Negaunee is planning a similar campaign. Manistique has sent out radio trouble shooters from time to time. In fact every city is required to maintain a policy of vigilance to keep radio disturbances to a minimum.

The important thing is to report radio disturbances so that they can be corrected as soon as possible.

Sigler Hunts Communists

GOV. SIGLER has promised vigorous efforts by the state to expose subversive activities in state government and in the state-endowed universities.

Gov. Sigler is, of course, operating in the right premise that Communism is a foe of democracy and that the insidious activities of Communist-front organizations are detrimental to our way of life.

To get a better understanding of the Communist threat, it is necessary to recognize that Communists are aligned heart and soul with the Russian dictatorship and that these so-called Americans would be traitors in our midst in the event of any American-Soviet entanglement.

Despite the reports of Dr. Ruthven of the University of Michigan and Dr. Henry of Wayne University that there is no evidence of subversive activities at the big state-supported universities, it is common knowledge that Communist front organizations are particularly active in most of the nation's large universities.

The man who says he is a Communist is not the one whom we have to fear. The real danger lies in that vast army of liars who hide their Communist connections but continue to bore in with the Communist line of thinking and in conformity with the policies laid down by the Kremlin.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington. — In the long history of the United States Senate, there have been scoundrels and fools as well as great men. There have been vainglorious egotists and chattering pygmies as well as statesmen and heroes.

But it is just possible that, in the long history of the Senate, there has never been any performance so dishonorable as that of Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee in the case of David Lillenthal. That is the unenviable record he will carry to his grave. It is another black mark in the book of American political history.

One can say, charitably, that Sen. McKellar's advanced years unfit him for his duties in the Senate. But that is not enough. He is a monstrous reality that cannot so conveniently be ignored.

More than the accident of an unprincipled individual is involved here. The organization of the Senate permits this individual to obstruct the whole course of government in a field vital to the life of every American. It permits this individual to make a foul joke of the precepts of Democracy. That is what is really ominous about the McKellar performance.

—JUST LIKE HITLERISM—

It is just as well to face up now to the Un-American nature of McKellar's tactics. Failing in every way to discredit David Lillenthal, McKellar finally resorted to the meanest form of character assassination. With innuendo and insinuation, he began to pry into Lillenthal's parentage and origin.

Think what this means to an honorable and sensitive man. Think what it means to a man whose elderly and respected parents are still living. Such an attack overrides every tenet on which this country was founded. It is a denial of our greatness and our strength. It is equivalent to the degradation of Hitlerism.

We have believed in this country that, no matter what a man's parents were, he was entitled to be judged on the merits of his own behavior. His race or his creed did not disbar him. We have fallen short of that ideal, often a long way short of it. But it is an ideal that we cherish.

Consider the case of David Lillenthal. It is no reflection on him to say that President Truman offered the chairmanship of the atomic energy commission to several others before it was offered to Lillenthal. Mr. Truman perhaps foresaw this very impasse, with all its mean and damaging implications.

One of the others to whom the chairmanship was offered was James Bryant Conant, president of Harvard University. Conant replied that he felt it his duty to stay at Harvard and help the University through the difficult postwar period. Another to whom the post was offered was Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson. He answered that, for personal reasons, he felt compelled to return to his law practice after he had served a further agreed time in the State Department.

Lillenthal said he would accept the position. He has devoted his life to public service instead of to sharpening the acquisitive instinct for private gain. A man of great capacity, he could undoubtedly have made a personal fortune as a corporation lawyer. But he chose public service.

—OTHERS ALSO ATTACKED—

One of the sad commentaries on all this is the fact that McKellar represents the State of Tennessee. Tennessee has contributed many great men in the past. Two of these great men, it so happens, were made to suffer under the same kind of Un-American attack that McKellar has directed at Lillenthal.

One was Andrew Jackson, who left his birthplace in South Carolina to make his home at the hermitage, near Nashville. Jackson's wife was calumniated and persecuted in the most cruel way in order to punish Jackson politically. The other was Andrew Johnson, who was hounded by vindictive men seeking for political ends to destroy and ruin him.

Tennessee's delegation in Congress today is well above the average if one excludes McKellar. It is largely composed of men of capacity and integrity. But the stain of McKellar, and behind him "Boss" Crump of Memphis, spreads a long way.

For these two, for McKellar and the Boss who created and sustained him, there is a dark niche in the Golden Cathedral of American history. And for all Americans there is a question as to how this can happen under our system of government.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—When the applications of West Point football stars Blanchard, Davis and Poole for leave to play pro football came across the desk of Chief of Staff Eisenhower, the five-star general experienced a twinge of nostalgia.

Back in 1914, Ike soldiered along the Mexican border under the late General Fred Funston — a dull, drab assignment which was lightened as much as possible by various types of athletic contests.

Eisenhower, then a 1st lieutenant, was assigned the task of developing a pigskin crew and pitched in with such enthusiasm that his team mopped up every other army outfit along the border. It even taught some of the universities of the southwest a few fine points of the game.

The season was scarcely over when coaching offers began to pour in on Eisenhower—big money in the days when a lieutenant's stipend, including all allowances, ran around $1,800 a year.

The temptation to resign and take one of the golden offers was great, as Ike recently confided to a congressional friend. "But," he added a little wistfully, "I had elected the army as a career; the glittering offers were declined."

"So," continued the Chief of Staff, "my sympathies were somewhat with Blanchard, Davis and Poole, though in fairness to the government, I had to disapprove their requests."

"I hope, however," he concluded, "that all of them will be wearing five stars some day."

NOTE.—The next year, 1915, Lt. Eisenhower was given permission by General Funston to coach the Peacock Military Academy at San Antonio in his off time. He received $250. The team won 5 out of 6 games.

Other Editorial Comments

NOT ALTOGETHER HOPELESS

(From the Christian Science Monitor.)

Those who are saddened by the occasional testimony to the triviality of American thinking should read what publisher John S. Knight has to say about newspaper readers. Reviewing the results of 100 field studies conducted during the last seven years of American newspapers, he finds the tastes of the literate native somewhat less discouraging.

To be sure, picture pages and outstanding news photos are found to attract 90 per cent of the readers. That is no more than confirmation of the known appeal of the graphic. But almost half of the men and a third of the women are reading editorials. And editorial cartoons gain practically the same attention as the top news stories. Furthermore interest in the editorial page shows up on the increase since before the war, whereas the lure of comics, society news and radio programs has declined.

The findings, of course, beg the question of the quality of the editorials—of whether perusal of a piece of opinionated writing with little but bias behind it indicates much more serious and intelligent interest than does the devouring of scandal. By and large, however, the editorial pages of American newspapers represent sincere attempts to get at and to set forth not the superficialities but the significances of the news.

If so large a percentage of Americans are not content to stop with "What happened?" but must go on to "What does it mean?" the Nation may be able to afford the luxury of a million or so popularity votes for radio crooners without dooming itself irrevocably to the bowdwoos.

HE'S NO LONGER FASHIONABLE

(Grand Rapids Press)

Members of the older generation will find it a little difficult to believe that 92 per cent of the New York boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 14 who were asked to identify Horatio Alger, jr., confessed that they had never heard of him. Yet, a quarter-century ago his books vied for youthful attention with the adventures of Tom Swift and the Bobsey Twins.

The fact that such erstwhile favorites as "Slow but Sure," "Sink or Swim," "Paul the Peddler" and others now are sought after only by collectors of Americana doesn't necessarily indicate an improvement in youth's literary standards, but it does seem to reveal a marked change in our social thinking. The Alger stories were all based on the "rags to riches" formula; in them such virtues as industry, self-reliance and frugality always "paid-off." A burning ambition characterized virtually every Alger hero and the emphasis was always on individual effort.

Maybe Alger singled out the exceptional cases on which to pattern his heroes; perhaps the reading of his books to the exclusion of others gave the young a distorted perspective of their world, but there's no evidence that anyone was harmed by them. On the contrary, they probably inspired many a boy and girl to "try a little harder." But that was back in the days when "security" was something a man could hope to achieve only through personal effort, rather than by legislative decree.

READERS WANT TO KNOW

Brooklyn: Walter Winchell repeatedly pronounced "allegedly" as a four-syllable word, as "al-LEJ-ed-lee." Shouldn't it be three syllables only, as "al-LEJ-d-lee"?—Reader.

Answer: Winchell's pronunciation is correct. See "allegedly" page 68, Webster's New International.

St. Albans: On a recent sportscast, Bill Stern referred to the Duke University football team of "DOOR-um," rhyming the first syllable of Durham with "boor, poor." Somebody ought to tell him.—F. S.

Answer: Many Durhams have already told him, I imagine. The first syllable of Durham, of course, rhymes with "cur, fur."

St. Louis: A magazine article speaks of "ferrous metals." What does "ferrous" mean?—H. T.

Answer: It's an adjective meaning "of or pertaining to iron," pronounced: FAIR-uss. It's from the Latin ferrum, "iron."

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

OFF AGAIN, ON AGAIN —The young woman seeking a divorce from her husband took the stand in circuit court and recounted in a trembling voice, and sometimes with tears, incidents in her married life which supported her charge that she was the victim of "extreme cruelty". The husband wasn't around to defend himself when the young woman's sister, mother and brother took the stand to testify that he drank, used vile language, and tossed a foot stool at her. It was what is called a pro-confesso case—often an arrangement in which the husband says go ahead and get a divorce I don't care what you do.

The divorce decree was granted by the judge and the young woman went out of the court room and down the stairs. In the hallway she met a young man who took her familiarly by the arm and marched her into the county clerk's office. There they applied for a marriage license. And at the bottom of the application blank in the space behind the question: Number of times previously married, their score was one each. It was a case of off with the old and on with the new and no delays for repentance.

REPEAT AT LEISURE—Just the other day the Michigan senate, taking cognizance of a situation it feels is in need of correction passed a bill which would permit courts to forbid divorced persons to remarry for two years and, if the party has been ordered to support minor children, to assess felony penalties if he marries in another state within that time.

You will note the wording of the bill. It says it "would permit courts to forbid"—it does not say that it is mandatory. Therefore, the law could be invoked by the judge in cases where he believes it would be for the best interest of society and the institution of marriage to keep divorced persons single for two years after the decree. Now the courts have no control over such situations.

Whether such a law will make for morality is debatable. But it should serve to keep the frivolous approach to marriage in abeyance, and perhaps reduce the number of children produced through temporary unions sanctioned by law.

MARRIAGE MOCKERY—It is the contention of many persons that divorce has become too easy. Majority of the divorces are inexpensive and uncontested. In divorce cases the customary court cost is $5, and action can be started by an attorney for a down payment of $25 or so.

If a husband or wife becomes interested in some other person—or some other person becomes interested in the husband or wife—there develops the old-fashioned triangle. This may be a fine subject for short stories, but it's not entertaining in real life. Particularly if there are children. For them it may mean insecurity, sometimes lack of opportunity, sometimes poverty as the aftermath of homes broken by divorce. For them, marriage means unhappiness, and divorce is misery.

Often these "triangle affairs" are infatuation and nothing more. If the court prior to granting a divorce told the plaintiff that neither party could remarry within two years, many of these triangle situations would evaporate.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Skaters of Escanaba and environs are asked to make preparations for participation in the costume skating party, which will be a feature of the Sunday evening program of the Escanaba Winter Frolic, Feb. 12 to 14.

Notices were served Tuesday on several Escanaba property owners who have failed to keep the snow shoveled off their sidewalks, warning them that the city was empowered by ordinance to clear the walks and charge the cost against the property as a special assessment.

A meeting of all retail clerks in Escanaba has been called for Thursday night at 7:30 at the city hall to discuss plans for the forming of an organization of clerks. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Fritz Olmstead and Ralph Dube left last night for Hot Springs, Ark., where they will attend the Doan baseball school.

As the result of a plan originated by I. W. Soderberg, chairman of the commercial department in Escanaba high school, 15 upper peninsula high schools are now using a new typewriting and shorthand test for their pupils. The feature of the new system is that all the students are ranked, and not only a few of the best as was the practice under the old system employed here.

WRAP proved its worth last night by furnishing the local fans with a fine program which was one of the best that the station has ever put on the air. Mrs. John Kress needs no introduction, and her conception of the "Blues" and also of ballads were no exception to her usual presentations. Victor Moreau, Jack Landre, with his humorous monologue, James Belland, with two cornet solos, were also on the program. As an added attraction, Ray Johns, under peninsula chairman of the Y. M. C. A. gave a short address.

Miss Ida Johnson of Escanaba, a junior at Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill., has been awarded the right to wear the institution's varsity emblem as a result of having earned 800 points. Miss Johnson is a member of the school's volleyball and basketball squads.

EXCEPTIONS ALWAYS.—In fairness it is necessary to point out that many divorces are necessary. That is why there are laws permitting divorce. In some families children are better off because one or the other parent divorced an incorrigible mate. And often a later remarriage proves not only successful but again provides the foundation for a complete family home and family happiness.

THE FRIVOLOUS.—Marriage—or remarriage—is not for the frivolous thrill seeker whose principal objective is privilege. As in all things, marriage requires mature acceptance of responsibilities if it is to succeed.

It is the immature in character who float thoughtlessly into one marriage, out of that, into another and out again without understanding that they are displaying all of the symptoms of childishness. The question is not one of morality or "sin," it is simply a question of whether the integrity of marriage is not being too frequently and easily violated. For some persons successful marriage is beyond their abilities.

SCORE CARD.—Perhaps it is not an unusual commentary on the married state to find that more marriages are being broken by divorce since the war than be-

Write your question clearly, sign your name and address and (IMPORTANT) mail this coupon and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Daily Press Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. Q. My mother is a World War II widow who contemplates remarriage soon. Would such remarriage terminate her compensation payments? How about her National Service Life Insurance benefits?

A. Your mother would forfeit her rights to death compensation benefits payable because of your father's service and death as of the date of her remarriage. However, the payments of National Service Life Insurance will continue in effect regardless of her marital status.

Q. When a sponge is placed in water, the water seems to penetrate the sponge. Does the water really penetrate the sponge?

A. No, it only enters the pores or vacant spaces between the parts of the sponge.

Q. What are the "seven sorrows of Mary?"

A. The prophecy of Simeon, the flight into Egypt, the loss of the child Jesus at Jerusalem, Mary's meeting Jesus on the road to Calvary, standing at the foot of the cross, Jesus' descent from the cross, the burial of Jesus.

Q. Will you please tell me how I can remove shoe polish from a mohair davenport?

A. By brushing it with a stiff bristled brush or by washing it with a cloth saturated with lukewarm water.

Q. Would a 100 pound weigh more at sea level or on a mountain 2500 feet above sea level?

A. It would weigh slightly more at sea level—the difference is almost negligible.

Q. Why is it that potatoes which have been frozen then thawed, sweeten?

A. Because the freezing, in part, converts the starch of the potato into sugar.

Q. My husband received the Purple Heart. May I wear it as a locket or a pin?

A. No, only the individual to whom the Purple Heart was awarded may wear it.

fore, in Delta county there were 40 divorces in 1941, and in 1946 this had jumped to a total of 94. Some of these additional divorces were breakups of "wartime" marriages, others were not. It did tend to disprove the old saying that "absence makes the heart grow fonder."

In this county as in the state and nation, divorce has become too easy and too fast. If the senate bill proposing to permit the judge to delay remarriage for two years becomes law, it should act as a brake on the runaway divorce rate. At the same time it will not penalize the man or woman whose divorce is justified.

—QUIZZING THE DEMOCRATS—

It's going to be a tough job to squeeze much out of the budget, but the cross-examination which government executives are getting from some Republicans is bound to have a healthy effect.

For many years, Democratic executives were questioned by Democratic congressmen—usually friendly. Now, however, it's a different story.

So far, the cross-examination has gone on behind closed doors and hasn't leaked to the press. But the grilling given to conscientious commissioner of internal revenue Joe Nunan was one of the most penetrating to be hurled at a government official in recent years.

Called before the subcommittee on appropriations, which votes funds for the treasury, Nunan was especially taken over the hurdles regarding the tremendous number of income-tax cases which are awaiting prosecution by the justice department. His inquisitor was able, hard-hitting Congressman Everett Dirksen of Illinois.

"When you find a tax return that you think has bugs in it," Dirksen asked the commissioner of internal revenue, "What happens?"

"It's sent in by a field officer for special study," replied Nunan.

"Then what happens?" pursued Dirksen.

"Then it goes to the general counsel's office of the treasury for examination of its legal aspects."

"Then where does it go?" continued Dirksen.

"Then if it's found to be airtight legally," replied the internal revenue commissioner, "it comes back to me."

"Then where does it go?" asked the Congressman from Illinois.

"Then it goes to the justice department for prosecution."

"How many cases are over there now?" asked Dirksen.

"I don't know," parried Nunan.

"Couldn't you guess?"

"No, I couldn't guess."

—INCOME-TAX BOTTLENECK—

"Well, here's a copy of Drew Pearson's Merry-Go-Round," said Dirksen, handing the tax commissioner a clipping, "which says there are more than 300 cases piled up in the justice department waiting criminal prosecution but which haven't been tried."

"Yes, there are at least that many," replied Nunan.

"Then Pearson didn't make such a bad guess."

"He guessed wrong about my resigning February 1st," countered Nunan.

"Well, now," continued the Congressman, "instead of having the justice department try these cases—where they are not being tried very fast—why not try them yourself in the internal revenue bureau? You have your own lawyers—in fact, more lawyers than the tax division of the justice department. When you send a case over to justice, the lawyers over there have to get familiar with all the facts. Why not have the lawyers who already know the facts try the cases?"

"That's the idea I have long favored," replied Commissioner Nunan, with the first gleam of enthusiasm of the entire day.

This is the season when the jack of all trades goes into the same thing—the income tax.

It's unfortunate that the shortage of soap-box cut down the number of soap-dox orators.

A writer calls untrue the old superstition that bats get in women's hair. Maybe it's just golf clubs.

It's strange how a fat person is always glad to pay a penny to be shocked.

An employer says that enjoying your work is the way to get fun out of it. Yeah—a loafer can't see the joke.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 6. (AP)—A terrific thunderstorm, which ended a three-day heat wave, killed eight persons and injured 19 today. A 60-mile an hour wind blew down a house in Buenos Aires suburb killing the grandparents and six children in a family. The parents were injured. During the

Feb. 9 Usually Coldest Day Here

If the weather records of past years are any indication of what is in store for Escanabans today, this may be the coldest day of the winter, despite the weather forecast which indicates only "fair and continued cold".

Although the coldest thermometer reading in Escanaba was recorded Feb. 7, 1875, when the temperature dipped to 32 degrees below zero, over the years Feb. 9 has been the day when cold really hits Escanaba. It was 28 below zero on Feb. 9, 1888, 13 below zero on Feb. 9, 1914, 26 below zero on Feb. 9, 1933, and 31 below zero on Feb. 9, 1934.

The local weather bureau reported yesterday that the forecast for today hardly indicates any sub-zero weather in such proportions as those of past years, but emphasized that zero weather is probable. Real frigid weather probably would result except for the fact that Lake Michigan is not frozen solid and open water has served to moderate the temperature, the weather bureau said.

Low barometer readings were reported yesterday, reflecting "wind whirls" over the lake which the weather bureau said enabled the Escanaba region to escape the bitter cold weather that was general through other areas in the northern tier of states.

Boy Scouts Exposition Impressive To Crowd Here Last Night

Before a crowd of 1200 people who bucked a snow storm to get to the Junior high school gym last night, the Boy Scouts of Escanaba and surrounding towns put on a show equal in entertainment value to many and many a professional presentation—and certainly a show with far more significance.

The Scout Circus opened with a flag ceremony, conducted by Troop 454 of Escanaba, prior to the grand entry, in which Cubs and Scouts of all the units taking part in the exposition made a circular parade about the gym floor. And then Cub Pack 415 of Bark River really got down to business with a soap box derby.

Each unit taking part exhibited some phase of Scouting activities with a graphic and realistic presentation. This part of the circus was climaxed by Nahma Scouts who set-up a lean-to camp, complete with evergreen boughs and sleeping Scouts in underwear, and roped, raised and demonstrated the use of a signaling tower.

The circus was closed with a court of honor, in which presentation of awards were made to Scouts of Escanaba, Nahma, and Gladstone. Wallace Cameron, Gladstone superintendent of schools, was awarded the Silver Beaver, a highly unusual award, and a great honor.

Memberships Will Be Taken Today

Janet Raymond, secretary of the Escanaba Figure Skating club, will be at the indoor ice rink this afternoon at one o'clock to take memberships of all those in the cast of "Fairyland Fantasy," who have not yet joined the skating club. The membership groups are: junior, all children through junior high school age; senior, all senior high school students; adult—all persons over high school age. It is necessary that all those in the revue hold membership in the club.

Gwinn Will Get Gossard Factory

Ishpeming—The H. W. Gossard company will open a branch plant in Gwinn and it hopes to start production there before many weeks have passed, Harold C. Peterson, superintendent of the Ishpeming plant, said here last evening.

The Gossard company has made arrangements with the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company for purchase of the former Gwinn hospital, which will be remodeled for factory use. That work will be started immediately.

"There has been a lot of planning and discussion about this move," Peterson said, "but we did not reach a final decision until Thursday."

"The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company has been most cooperative in making possible our decision to go into Gwinn."

Peterson said Gossard plans to employ, ultimately, from 120 to 125 workers in Gwinn, using both floors of the present structure, and there is a possibility that the attic will be converted for factory use.

Between 1795 and 1818, the American flag had 15 stripes.

Aid Promised 153 Michigan Airports In Program Of CAA

Washington, Feb. 8 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration recommended today that 153 airports in Michigan be constructed or improved within the next three years.

They are among 4,431 airports in the entire country which Administrator T. P. Wright said should be built or improved in that period.

The list summarizes the National Airport plan which the administrator is required to prepare and revise annually under terms of the Federal Aid Airport Act.

From it will be selected the projects to be included in the construction program for the 1948 fiscal year, starting July 1, depending upon the amount of money appropriated by Congress and the relative urgency of each project.

Wright already has said that large airports will receive some preference in the 1948 program. The 1947 list, announced Jan. 10, included only airports in the three smaller classes.

The projects on the list issued today are estimated to cost $985,800,000 of which the Federal Government's share would be $441,600,000 and the local sponsors' share would be $544,200,000.

Under the Federal Airport Act, which authorizes expenditure of $500,000,000 in Federal funds over a seven-year period, Congress may appropriate as much as $100,000,000 for use in one year. Sponsors would be required to put up slightly more.

The CAA made no attempt to show the cost of individual projects.

The projects listed for Michigan giving the present and proposed class of airport, are:

(Explanations of symbols: Class 1, fields having a usable unpaved landing strip length of from 1,800 to 2,700 feet at sea level conditions; Class 2, fields where the longest usable unpaved landing strip is between 2,700 and 3,700 feet long; Class 3, fields where the longest unpaved landing strip is between 3,700 and 4,700 feet long; Class 4, a field with paved runways between 4,500 and 5,500 feet long; Class 5, a field having paved runways between 5,500 and 6,500 feet long; Class 6, non-existent; Class X, sub-one, that is an existing airport which does not meet the CAA's Class 1 dimensions; Class 2, seaplane base.

(A paved runway may be 200 feet shorter and still be the equivalent of the unpaved landing strip lengths given for Class 1, 2, and 3 airports.)

Fisherman's Car Falls Through Ice

Menominee, Mich.—Commercial fishermen are keeping a wary eye out for cracks and thin ice off the shore of Green bay between Henes Park in Ingallston as result of an accident Wednesday in which Wendell Beaucock and a companion barely escaped with their lives.

Beaucock was on his way to his nets in a Model-T Ford car he used in his fishing operations when the car plunged through the ice and sank, carrying with it a trailer and a sleigh. Both men jumped in time to save themselves a ducking in the bay's icy waters.

AUGUSTANA U. FORGES AHEAD

Enrollment More Than Doubled, Reverend Lund Reports

Augustana college is going forward with rapid strides, Rev. Gustav Lund, pastor of Bethany Ev. Lutheran church, stated yesterday upon his return from Rock Island, Ill., where he attended a meeting of the college board.

Reverend Lund reports that the enrollment at Augustana has more than doubled, with 1,152 students in the day school. All together with night school, summer school, music and seminary classes, there are now a total of 2,000 enrolled.

Among the college students there are 456 ex-service men carried over from last semester and 110 new GIs this semester. Only high school pupils in the upper half of their class may now enroll without passing an entrance examination, and GIs must measure up to college standard work. President Conrad Bergendoff reported the quality of work being done by the GIs is either good or above average.

This fall, more than 300 pupils could not be received because of lack of dormitory space and something must be done very shortly to alleviate this situation, making it possible for more young people from the Augustana Lutheran churches to attend.

Much interest in Augustana college is being shown by the quad-cities, Rock Island, Moline, East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Ia. This fall, the college board approached the business leaders of the four cities to assume an in-gathering of $350,000 for a fine arts building, including an auditorium that would serve the area and be the home for the famous Augustana College choir and Orchestra chorus. The business leaders not only accepted this quota but have almost trebled it and are setting out to raise $750,000, Reverend Lund stated.

Much good will has been won by the college, particularly through the outstanding work in music under the leadership of Prof. Henry Veld. Dr. Arnold Serenius of Augustana college was in Escanaba last week to discuss the possibility of booking the Augustana college choir for an appearance in Escanaba the latter part of April.

Olafson Goes Big On Winter Sports

By ANDY P. OLAFSON
Well I see by the Paper where President Truman says he is getting along fine with Congress but I figure you can all ways get along fine when you are outnumbered and down to Lansing I see where they are going to build a new Governors house for Governor Sigler but from the Picture they showed of it I would say they should cut out some of the Bushes around it on acct. that is good place for Graffters and Communists to hide which he is looking for in Lansing but that big Chimley they put on the house is a good Idea I hope he still beliefs in Santy Claus and one Winter out our way we had to go in our house down the Chimley on acct. of the snow Shovel was snowed under but we put some pine Knots in the heater and Melted the snow down untill we could get out of the Up Stairs window and we enjoyed winter Sports that Winter like playing Smear and Milking the cows and etc. and my brother he would carry the milk back to the House on Skis but by the time he got there it was Ice cream and that Winter I write up a poem on Skis which goes like this

OLAFSON

WHAT SPORT

He hops in the air with his pants in the Breeze
The young man up there on the Hickory Skis
And way down Below we stand there and freeze
And Tramping the snow we catch a good Sneeze

He slips with a smile over tops of the Trees
And lands in a pile where every one sees
What a good jump he did by the Spring of his Knees
That crazy young kid with his feet full of skis

And I figure that is a good Poem and you can put it in Paper if you do not think it is Corney

Hopeing you are the same

Hindered in the past by the shortage of many vital parts and materials, we found it increasingly difficult to accommodate our customers in the manner which had made our car and truck service famous for years.

Today, however, with service parts and materials becoming more readily available . . . and with more experienced mechanics to serve you . . . we are prepared to offer you not only the full benefit of our facilities but an even greater service precision and efficiency.

We of the Chevrolet service organization want you to know that we value your service business to the fullest degree and that we are determined to give you such sound and satisfying service that you will want to be our customer for a long time to come!

Come in today and at regular intervals. . . . Skilled mechanics—modern tools and equipment—quality parts and materials . . . all adding up to service that you'll call superior in all ways!

Again it's possible for us to say—

WE SERVICE YOUR CAR AS YOU WANT IT SERVICED

... to merit your friendship and goodwill!

To merit your lasting friendship—to merit your lasting goodwill—we operate our service business in accordance with the following principles:

OUR SERVICE PLEDGE

- We will accurately diagnose—to the best of our ability—the repairs needed on your car. If you request it, we will give you in advance our analysis of the work to be done.
- We will write up your order clearly, completely and legibly, and secure your authorization to do the work before starting.
- We will notify you in advance of any additional work we think should be done, and secure your approval before proceeding.
- We will perform all the work on your car as efficiently and as economically as possible. We will replace only those parts which in our judgment need replacing.
- We will road-test your car after the work is done and before we return the car to you, if the nature of the work requires it.
- We will endeavor to have your car ready on time. If the work takes longer than we estimate, we will advise you as far in advance as possible.
- We will provide you with an itemized bill showing exactly what work was done and exactly what it cost. We will gladly explain any item or items that are not clear to you.

Mrs. John Stromberg Knew Edison As Burglar Alarm Expert 60 Years Ago

On Tuesday when the 100th anniversary of Thomas A. Edison's birth will be observed throughout the nation, one of Escanaba's pioneer residents, Mrs. John Stromberg, 83 will have a special interest in the famous inventor's birthday centennial on Feb. 11. For Mrs. Stromberg, who resides at 1507 Ludington, can recall when she knew the great inventor back over 60 years ago in East Orange, N. J. when he served the residents of that community as a burglar alarm expert.

"I remember so well Mr. Edison with his white horse and buggy," said Mrs. Stromberg when interviewed by a representative of the Press. "Edison with his familiar buggy would come from his laboratory in West Orange to service the burglar alarms he had installed in many of the wealthy homes in East and West Orange and nearby suburbs of New York. At that time during the early '80's I was working for the Wescott, wealthy founders of the Wescott Express, pioneer trucking organization still functioning today. The Wescotts were one of Edison's regular customers, and whenever anything went wrong with any of the burglar alarms, Edison himself would come over to make repairs.

"Many a time I would hold a lighted candle to assist him in locating the point of trouble. As he worked he would often direct me in holding the candle, saying with a twinkle in his eye, 'Raise the light a little higher, little girl' or 'a little lower,' as the case might be. When finished with the repairs, if Mr. Wescott was in the library, he would invite Edison in and they would discuss at long intervals some of the discoveries he was working on."

Edison Had Patience
When asked what impressed her most about Edison, Mrs. Stromberg, who has a most active memory, answered, "I remember Mr. Edison as a man of great patience. No matter what the hour or what the trouble, he would stay until the job was done. He would come from his laboratory in his working clothes looking like a very ordinary man. There was nothing about him to indicate the great inventor that he was. Even at the time when I only knew him as a burglar alarm expert, he was perfecting in his laboratory some of his most famous inventions, including the phonograph and the incandescent lamp, and had already taken out over 400 inventions."

"But so accustomed were we to seeing Edison and his white horse make the rounds at periodic intervals to give service to his burglar alarm customers, that we never fully realized then the great importance to the world of Mr. Edison's inventions and discoveries.

"Work seemed to be Mr. Edison's boss," continued Mrs. Stromberg. "He was always at it."

Veronica Brew, Meddie LeBresh Exchange Vows

A nuptial high mass performed at St. Patrick's church on Feb. 1 united Veronica Brew, 220 South 16th street, daughter of Mrs. Louisa Walter, Cooks, Mich., in marriage to Meddie LeBresh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred LeBresh of Perkins. Rev. Fr. Thomas Ruppe officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. William Ramspeck, church organist, played the Lohengrin wedding march as the processional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional.

The bride was attired in a white wool suit with white accessories. Her only jewelry was a white bracelet, a gift of the bridegroom, and her corsage was of pink gladioli.

Miss Violet LeBresh, sister of the bridegroom, who was the maid of honor, wore a deep green suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli. Mrs. Lyle Healy, bridesmaid, wore a light green suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli. Matthew A. Walter, brother of the bride, served as the best man and Lyle Healy was an usher.

A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home for 15 guests. A wedding dinner was served later at the Log Cabin for 26 guests where the tables were decorated in pink and white.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Walter wore a black crepe dress while the bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue print. Both wore corsages of gladioli.

Reception at Home

A reception for fifty guests was held at the home of the bride from 4 to 8 o'clock. The table was decorated with a three tiered wedding cake.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Louisa Walter, Cooks; Mr. and Mrs. Fred LeBresh, Miss Caroline LeBresh, Beverly and Keith Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Norstrom, Perkins; Lloyd and Lee Walter, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fox, Cooks, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Plourde of Iron Mountain and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Healy of Manistiquie.

The bride attended school in Cooks and the bridegroom attended school in Perkins. The bridegroom is employed by the McDowell Construction Co.

Miss Margaret McCarthy Bride, Wed In Milwaukee

Urn of white flowers, arranged with the traditional lighted tapers, decorated the altars of St. John's Cathedral in Milwaukee Saturday morning for the wedding of Margaret F. McCarthy, Knickerbocker hotel, Milwaukee, and Bernard T. Kelley, of Brownsville, Pa.

The bride, a former resident of Escanaba, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. McCarthy, of Ypsilanti, and Mr. Kelley is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kelley, of Latrobe, Pa.

The double ring ceremony took place at a nine o'clock nuptial high mass at which Rev. Father Alleman officiated. St. John's choir sang the music of the wedding mass and the solos of the service were "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," "Panis Angelicus," and "O Lord, I Am Not Worthy."

Bride in Ivory Satin

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore ivory satin. The gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, outlined by roses of the same material, a sweetheart neckline, long, close-fitting sleeves which tapered over the wrists, and a full skirt, which formed a court train. Her bridal veil of illusion was caught to a coronet of starched lace, and she carried a white prayer book, adorned with orchids and white satin ribbon markers.

The five attendants, Louise St. Martin, of this city, who was maid of honor, and Margaret Kelley, of Brownsville, Pa., Jean O'Leary, of Chicago, Margaret Quirt, of Springfield, Mass., who were bridesmaids, were all gowned alike. Their bouffant dresses were of ice blue brocade satin, and they wore long lace gloves and silver slippers or coronet styled half hats with feather tip trim. They carried arm bouquets of pink carnations, Joseph Kelley, of Greensville, S. C., served as his brother's best man, and the ushers, who seated the guests, were Gordon Hurlbert, of Detroit, Lee Clark, of Ann Arbor, Jack Meyer, of Moebridge, S. D., and Pat Madden and Ray Geiringer, of Milwaukee.

A wedding breakfast for fifty guests was served at the Astor Hotel, the wedding cake centering the table, with an effective arrangement of low bouquets of spring flowers and tapers.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride was wearing a two piece checked suit, with a beige coat, a fur-trimmed hat and brown accessories. They will make their home at 232 High street in Brownsville.

The new Mrs. Kelley, who has been employed in the office of the Aluminum Company of America in Milwaukee, is a graduate of Escanaba high school and she attended Eastern College, at River Forest, Ill., the University of Michigan and Prospect Hall in Milwaukee. Her husband, who is employed in Brownsville, attended Duquesne university, Carnegie Tech, and the University of Minnesota, before entering Marquette University Engineering School in Milwaukee, where he received his degree.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John E. McCarthy, of Ypsilanti, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Kelley, Latrobe, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Schulties, Marge Koppes, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. SIGNAL SOUGHT AT BARK RIVER

Railroad-Highway Crossing May Be Lighted With Flasher

In response to a petition from Bark River residents, the Delta county road commission in regular meeting yesterday morning authorized J. T. Sharpsteen, road commission superintendent-engineer, to proceed with plans for erection of a flasher warning signal at the crossing of the C. & N. W. Railroad and County Road 535 in Bark River.

The petitions were received by the commission at its previous meeting. Since then Sharpsteen has taken the matter up with the state highway department to determine whether the project might be included in the secondary federal aid highway program. The state advised the commission that it is possible the project may be added.

Next step in the projected erection of the crossing protection signal is to contact railroad officials to reach some possible agreement on the division of costs for the job. Usually such signals are erected with state or county highway funds and the signal is maintained thereafter by the railroads.

Other business before the commission included plans to obtain the services of an actuarial consultant in proposals to set up a pension retirement system for road commission employees. The study will be necessary to determine the feasibility of the plan and the cost to the county, which has been estimated at about 11 per cent of the county road commission's $186,000 annual payroll.

The commission also authorized the purchase of one three-ton truck from the Escanaba Machine company, whose bid of $3,241.60 was the lowest of two received. The commission also approved a letter of appreciation to Escanaba fire department, the Upper Michigan Power & Light company, and the E. & L. S. Railway for their assistance in halting the spread of flames to the county road commission building when the Freeman Furniture plant burned.

COMMANDO RAID DECEIVES MEN

Use Of Propaganda And Sinister Advertising Deplored By Citizens

The rosary will be recited at the funeral home chapel at 8 o'clock this evening.

raid on Escanaba's business district Friday night and it was a raid marked by the sinister and deceitful tactics which total war has made necessary in recent years. They used motorized reconnaissance—a decorated jeep. And they used propaganda.

Commandos they were, the handsome things who stormed Ludington street, and deceitful they were, too, in the best tradition of the fifth-columnists and the propagandists who do not lie but who do not tell the truth, either.

Many and many a man took the oval-shaped button from his lapel and stuck it in his pocket, hopeful of being accosted by some beautiful creature who'd sell him another button for a buck—and then kiss him by brute force.

And many the man was disappointed too, because the kisses so liberally promised were not like the samples the deceitful darlings passed out so promiscuously to various safe if prominent citizens Thursday morning, just for practice and for pictures.

The kisses the Commandos passed out were candy kisses. The tiny, chewy kind. The kind for which a man wouldn't set his mouth at all if he were the kind of a man who hid his Winter Sports button.

But they passed out a lot of those, the darlings—and sold a lot of buttons, too, though once upon a time that seemed of secondary importance to the kind of a man who'd put his button in his pocket hopeful of being accosted by some beautiful creature.

Step right up and meet a Sweetheart

It's BUICK for '47!

STEP up now, good people, and meet the fashion master of the new season.

Here's Buick for 1947—style-wise, performance-wise, quality-wise and value-wise, the sweetest "buy" your dollars are going to find anywhere this year.

Eye well that sparkling new grille—behind it you'll be plainly marked as strictly up to 1947 in your travel standards.

Take in the tapering grace of long, sweep-through fenders—there's the hallmark of a style pattern sure to bring you notice and approval wherever you may go.

Note the reach of the bonnet—long, deep, broad-chested—there's a lifetime of thrills in such bountiful supply of Buick Fireball straight-eight power.

Spot the solid footing of a carriage big as you deserve—the breadth of beam that spells room aplenty—the ready-to-go poise of four coil-spring wheels ready to level the roughest roads into boulevard smoothness.

And in particular, mark down this: Not one smart model but nine will present this fresh front to the world this season.

Cars in three series, three wheel-bases and three price ranges give you a triple-barreled chance to know Buick size, Buick beauty, Buick ability when you travel.

Choose from two versions of the garage-handly SPECIAL—four of the light-footed SUPER—three of the great-hearted ROADMASTER series.

In each you'll find a rich abundance of the things that make Buick America's most wanted automobile—engines that seem to stay forever young, the matchless buoyancy of Buick's springing, the spaciousness of great room, the feathery handling of controls that are always "obediently yours."

Naturally—demand is going to be great; a sweetheart like this is bound to bring suitors flocking.

So how about coming in—right away—and getting your order on our books?

Cauchon Tells Alger Vets Of Emergency Aid

Munising—In order to acquaint veterans and their families of Alger county with the hospitalization benefits to which the veteran is entitled, Francis J. Cauchon, local Veterans' Counselor, recently enumerated the various state and national set-ups whereby a veteran may obtain free emergency hospitalization for both service-connected disabilities and others not so connected.

The first hospitalization plan which Mr. Cauchon spoke of is when emergency hospitalization is needed for any service-connected disability such as malaria, which is probably the most common. In such cases, the counselor said, the veteran or the family should immediately contact him at the court house and he will obtain the necessary authorization from the Veterans' Administration relative to placing the veteran in a local hospital if it is not possible to transport him to a V. A. hospital. The entire hospitalization expense, whether in a local or V. A. hospital, will be borne by the Veterans' Administration, Mr. Cauchon stated.

"In the event that an honorably discharged veteran of World War II is in need of emergency hospitalization for anything other than service-connected disabilities," Mr. Cauchon went on to say, "the hospital and doctor will be paid for by the State Emergency Hospitalization plan available through the Office of Veterans' Affairs."

The counselor then went on with a warning to veterans to the effect that in order to get these hospital benefits they must contact their local OVA counselor, or if away from home notify the nearest OVA counselor within 24 hours or as soon thereafter as is physically possible. One of the best ways to notify the counselor, Mr. Cauchon said, is for the veteran needing hospitalization to have his doctor call the information to the OVA representative.

Types of emergency coming under the state plan would be, appendicitis, injuries sustained in accidents or otherwise, unless they are specifically covered by insurance, the counselor stated. The State Emergency Hospitalization plan is not a new benefit but has been available to veterans of World War II for more than a year. During that time, reports show approximately $15,000 has been paid for emergency hospitalization of Alger county veterans.

Whenever emergency hospitalization is needed, veterans should contact Mr. Cauchon at the court house in Munising and he will determine which program the case applies to and will take immediate action.

"Don't wait to notify the counselor until the veteran is ready to leave the hospital. It will be too late to get the benefits," Mr. Cauchon warned.

Michigan Veterans Trust Fund
Another fund available to veterans of World War II and their families is the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund, Mr. Cauchon reported. This fund is administered by committees in each county who have been appointed by the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund board of trustees, and was designed to care for the emergent needs of qualified veterans and their dependents. An "emergent need" was described by Mr. Cauchon as "one arising in the life of a veteran which cannot be met from earnings or accumulated savings and cannot be sufficiently promptly handled through normal channels available under federal and state laws in private organizations, such as the American Red Cross and Community Chests."

Veterans of World War II and their dependents in need of assistance through this fund may make application with any one of the members of the committee, the veterans' counselor said.

Committee members of the fund are: Francis J. Cauchon, chairman; John Colburn and Clyde Pangborn. Committee headquarters is in the Office of Veterans' Affairs, Court House, Munising.

To date, three applications have been made and a total of $125.00 has been granted from the fund, Mr. Cauchon stated.

Miss A. Schilling Bride Of E. Brown In Ceremony Here

Munising. — Miss Alice Mae Schilling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Schilling, 216 Chocoley street, became the bride of Elton Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, of Christmas, in a ceremony performed Saturday morning at 8 o'clock in the Sacred Heart church.

The couple spoke the vows before Reverend Father Gerald Harrington.

The bride's attendant was Miss Donna Cromell, niece of the bride, and the bridegroom was attended by William P. Schilling, brother of the bride.

For the wedding the bride chose a powder blue, two piece, crepe dress with black and white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Her attendant, Miss Cromell, wore a grey pencil striped dress with black and white accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

The bride's mother wore a Navy blue, crepe dress and a corsage of sweet peas and carnations. The mother of the groom wore a forest green dress with a corsage of sweet peas and carnations.

A wedding breakfast for the bride and groom and twenty guests was held at the home of the bride's parents Saturday morning and a wedding dinner was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents at Christmas later in the day. Saturday evening the couple were guests of honor at a wedding dance at the Co-op hall.

The couple will make their home at Christmas.

The bride and bridegroom attended Mather high school. The bridegroom is employed by the Alger County Road commission.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Glenn Brown of Whitefish Point, Mich., and Charles Hoy of Fundale, Mich.

Odd Fellows Will Celebrate Golden Anniversary Here

Munising. — In commemoration of their golden anniversary, the Munising Odd Fellows organization, the first lodge to be organized in Munising, will hold a luncheon and program Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Fraternal hall. Invitations to the affair have been extended to members of the Rebekah lodge, friends, and IOOF lodges of surrounding communities. It was announced.

The program prepared for the evening will consist of talks on the history of the lodge by Hilding Carlson and Emil E. Bengtson; an address, "Fraternal Organizations and What They Mean to Their Community" by Reverend Fredrick Steen, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; and a talk by Mrs. Anna Bail on "The Rebekah Lodge of Munising." A number of musical selections will also be given throughout the course of the evening. Darle Widdis will be master of ceremonies.

The 50th anniversary committee is composed of the following: Joseph B. Wright, Allen Bailey and Frank Warner, arrangements; Ray Mahon, Otto Aho, Emil Bengtson, Mrs. Ebbey Cook and Mrs. Emil Bengtson, lunch.

Y. A. F. Party

Members are asked to meet at the church at 2 p. m.

EDEN CHURCH EVENTS

Munising—The Junior Missionary Society of the Eden Lutheran church will meet Monday at 4 p. m. The Senior Confirmation class will meet at 6:30 p. m., and the Board of Administration will meet at the parsonage at 8 p. m.

Scouts Will Hold Banquet Thursday

Munising. — The Munising Boy Scouts, Cubs and their parents will attend a pot-luck supper at the Methodist church parlors on Thursday, February 13, at 6:30 p. m., in celebration of National Boy Scout week, February 7-15.

An invitation to the affair has also been extended to the Boy Scout troop of Shingleton, Kenneth Bakum, local Scout enthusiast, announced.

The committee in charge of the banquet is composed of Mrs. L. B. Ruggles and Mrs. R. W. Nebel who are working on arrangements for refreshments under the direction of an over-all committee composed of Walter Dieterichs, Willard Hildebrand and Kenneth Bakum.

During the course of the banquet Thursday evening awards will be made to both Scouts and Cubs in recognition of individual advancement through the various ranks of Scouting.

Scouts and Cubs, whose parents are unable to attend the banquet, may come alone, Mr. Bakum said yesterday. However, it is the desire of the committee that parents do accompany their sons and help celebrate the 37th birthday anniversary of national Scouting, the occasion for National Boy Scout Week.

Local Scout troops and Cub packs will also attend church in a body sometime during the week in commemoration of the event, the committee stated.

MARJORIE SEPPANEN

Munising—Funeral services for Marjorie Ann Seppanen, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seppanen of Chatham, who died Thursday, will be held in the Trenary Methodist church, Sunday, Feb. 9, at 1:30 p. m.

Eagles To Initiate Large Class Today

After several weeks of planning by steering committee chairman, John DeChantal, and his team captains, Escanaba Aerie No. 1088 today will initiate a class of candidates to commemorate the 4th anniversary of the founding of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. The class will also honor the Aerie trustees and will be presented before the altar today at 1:30 p. m. at the Eagles hall, 608 Ludington street.

In checking the applications on file, Werner A. Olson, secretary said, "The class will be the largest class initiated during the last fiscal year and will bring the membership of Escanaba Aerie No. 1088 to 450 members."

"By continuing to work as we have done this month," he continued, "we should have no difficulty in reaching our goal of 600 members by June 1, which would break our best year record."

The entertainment committee has arranged for a baked ham luncheon to be served after the initiation.

Trenary Senior Play Wednesday

The senior class play of the Trenary high school, which was to have been presented on Feb. 5, will be given on Wednesday evening, Feb. 12, at 8 o'clock. The original date of presentation was postponed because of the storm which would have prevented a large attendance.

The play, a three act comedy by Vincent Barrett, is entitled "Strictly Confidential" and has been under the direction of the class advisor, Homer Story. The stage settings were built by members of the class and will be used in the future presentation of class plays. The cast of characters includes:

Mrs. Weatherby-Gall, the cook, Laura Grainger.
Gilda Dowling, Ida Kallio.
Mrs. Rowland, Sr., Shirley Fitzgerald.

Gertie Rowland, Thelma Saari.
Janie Lawrence, her sister, Arilla Hoy.
Bill Rowland, a lawyer, Arnold Aho.

Jarvis King, a friend, Bill June.
Jerry Dowling, Bill's partner, Bill Davis.

Robert Brooks, Gilda's brother, Howard Holmquist.
Amanda Babcock, Thelma DeGarmo.

Letitia Freeman, Bill's aunt, Eleanor Pylvanen.
Miss Sharley Nyquist, soprano, will also sing between the acts.

mon will present a program of motion pictures, and assist with the business of the group. Refreshments will be served.

Old Clothing
Members of the Delta Parish of Congregational churches sent 220 pounds of old clothing to overseas relief last week. Seven boxes packed full included coats, shoes, dresses, baby articles, sweaters, hats, and trousers. Certain of the contributors placed slips of paper with their addresses in pockets of the clothing, hoping to hear from the recipients overseas in Italy, Greece, Germany or France.

Derwith Carlson, four years old, of Chicago, is spending a few weeks with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Carlson.

HER SELECTION SURPRISES PAT

Queen And Court Have Busy Time Preparing For Coronation Today

Friday night Patsy Ammel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ammel, 412 South 12th street, raided with the Button Commandos up and down Escanaba's business district, simply as one of seven queen candidates.

Yesterday, between posing for pictures and shopping for sports clothes, Patsy Ammel, queen-elect, ran again with the Commandos, selling the Winter Sports Club buttons. But she ran as one set apart by destiny and the decision of the winter Sports Club's anonymous committee of judges.

Today at 3:30 p. m. at the 19th street rink she will be crowned officially by the hand of Dr. Roy Johnson, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and led to the throne of ice, erected, chiseled and decorated by the recreational department to receive her.

Election A Surprise

Her selection surprised Patsy, she said. She really didn't expect to be queen. Her mother woke her at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, waving a copy of the Press with the official announcement. From that time, Patsy says, she has been walking two feet off the ground.

Saturday morning, officials representing the Escanaba Winter Sports Club provided Queen Patsy with her coronation robe—a ski suit with wool gabardine pants of military blue, wind-proof jacket with a golden tint, golden cap, and mittens of white. The ladies in waiting were provided with dark, wind-proof ski jackets.

Saturday afternoon, Patsy and her court were out with the Beta

Coronation Today

Today, at the conclusion of the speed racing, she will be crowned Queen of Escanaba's Winter Carnival Week, and seated upon the icy throne.

On Monday Queen Patsy and her court will attend a meeting of the Rotarians and the Kiwanis clubs to greet the members, and Monday night they will be guests of the Lions club at a dinner at the Sherman hotel.

Next weekend, Queen Patsy of Escanaba will stand among visiting queens, representatives carefully chosen by other Upper Michigan cities for beauty of face, form, and soul, and so standing. Queen Patsy will be judged among them by the committee of judges, all from non-participating cities, who will bestow the title, Queen of the North, upon one of those fair and modest brows.

Hospital

John Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Moore of 1221 Stephenson avenue was discharged from St. Francis hospital Saturday afternoon following an appendectomy, and is now visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arne Andriassen, 13 Harland avenue, Wells, during his convalescence.

JACKSON RALLY HERE THURSDAY

Victor F. Lemmer And Wendell Lund Will Be Speakers

Atty. Wendell Lund of Washington, D. C., and Victor F. Lemmer, Ironwood, have been booked by the Jackson for Circuit Judge committee as speakers at a bipartisan meeting to be held at the Bonifas auditorium at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, Feb. 13.

Both Lund and Lemmer were born in Escanaba and spent their early years here. Both are well acquainted with Atty. Glenn W. Jackson, Gladstone, candidate for nomination as circuit judge at the Feb. 17 primary election. Lund will speak at the Bonifas auditorium on the topic, "The Woman's Place in Government." He also will give an address over Station WDBC Thursday afternoon, beginning at one o'clock.

Township workers of the Jackson for Judge committee will meet at the marine room of the House of Ludington Wednesday evening to map plans for the closing days of the campaign. Pros. Atty. Clyde McGonagle will be the toastmaster, and the principal speakers will be Atty. Jackson, Atty.

Wheaton Strom, Atty. James R. Fitzharris, and Atty. Denis McGinn.

The same speakers will appear on the program at another meeting to be held at the Legion hall in Gladstone Saturday night.

Herman Oberg's To Visit In Sweden

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Oberg of Escanaba will leave Feb. 22 for Nordmaling, Vasterbotten, Sweden, where they will join Mr. Oberg's parents and other relatives in a family reunion—marking the first time Mr. Oberg will have seen his parents in 20 years. Mr. Oberg's mother is 70, and his father 80 years old. There are also seven sisters and four brothers who will join the reunion celebration.

The Oberg's expect to sail from New York City Feb. 25 on the steamship Drottinholm of the Swedish line, and will return about July 7. In Escanaba the Oberg's reside on South 23rd street near the M-35 junction, and have lived here for 15 years. They came to Escanaba from Wisconsin, where Mrs. Oberg was born.

Communication

MORE CONCERNING GREENWOOD CHAPEL

The writer of your article in the February 5 issue of the Daily Press has been misinformed about the founding of the Greenwood Chapel and the Greenwood Chapel Ladies' Aid. Mrs. Louise Cunningham, formerly Louise Greenwood, raised funds among her friends in Buffalo, N. Y., and purchased the building. The late Charles R. Orr donated the land for as long as needed for church services.

Miss Greenwood (my sister) was Episcopalian, but there being no Episcopal church in Manistique at that early date, Greenwood Chapel was deeded over to the Superior Presbyterian, which helped pay the pastor of the chapel.

The Ladies' Aid was organized among the members of the little church, which took care of other expenses of the church, including half of the minister's salary.

The Rev. Mr. Torbett was the minister of Greenwood Chapel. He was also minister of the Presbyterian church in Manistique. The first officers of the Greenwood Chapel Ladies' Aid were Mrs. A. B. Greenwood, president; Mrs. Fred Graham, vice president; Mrs. Arthur Graham, secretary. Both Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood were very active in carrying on the work of the chapel which bore their name.

After the automobile replaced the horse and buggy, the residents of the neighborhood preferred driving into town to churches of their choice and for a number of years no services were held in the little chapel, so the Presbyterians sold the building and the land

HOSPITAL HERE
NEARS REALITYSite Chosen And Meeting
With Architects
Arranged

Action to make the proposed community hospital for Schoolcraft county a reality and one step nearer was taken by the Schoolcraft County Community Hospital committee at a meeting Friday evening, by selection of the site for the project and the calling of a meeting of architects.

The original suggestion that lots on the old fair grounds be selected for the site, received the approval of the board, the location being favored because of its accessibility, the fact that water and sewer connections can be readily made with a minimum of expense and the view from that particular location. It is at the southwest corner of the fair grounds on Main street.

Offers by Walter Linderoth and H. H. Score of lots also nicely suited to location of the hospital were graciously acknowledged.

Anxious to get the project moving and on its way, the board decided that they would ask architect firms which have expressed a willingness to consider offering their services, to meet with members of the board and make preliminary suggestions. The date for this meeting has been tentatively set for Friday. Architects who have been asked to appear are Hubert and Gjelsteen, Menominee; St. Clair Pardee, St. Johns; Lewis Sarvis, Battle Creek, and Gothard Arntzen, Escanaba.

Delicious refreshments were served later.

Dessert Bridge

Mrs. Richard Wille and Mrs. Robert Orr entertained at a dessert bridge party on Friday evening at the Orr home on Steuben avenue.

Four tables of bridge were in play during the evening with prizes being awarded to Mrs. C. F. Anderson, high, Mrs. A. W. Cockram, second, and Mrs. William Corson, low. Mrs. Ira Crawford received the traveling prize.

Bridge Club

Mrs. A. F. Hall was hostess to members of her bridge club on went back to the original owner, Mr. Orr.

Mr. Orr was also a trustee of the little church.

After services at the church were discontinued the Ladies' Aid decided to re-organize and become a community social club. That was how the Good Will Club came into being.

The little church was named after my father and mother. It was located opposite the Maple Grove school on a corner that is now part of the fox farm.

JACK HOUGH
DIES IN CRASH

Instantly Killed When
Car Leaves Road
Near Garden

Jack Hough, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Hough, 514 Michigan avenue, was instantly killed early Saturday morning when the car he was driving left the road and turned over. The young man was thrown out of the car and was crushed when the vehicle fell upon him. Lyle Sangraw, also of Manistique, who was with him, suffered only minor injuries.

The two young men were returning from a dance at Garden about 2 o'clock in the morning and were making the short turn on the highway near Valentine Creek, about three miles north of Garden, when the accident occurred. The car, evidently skidded, left the road and then, as it started rolling over, forced open the door.

A few minutes later Ivan Kobasic and his orchestra arrived at the scene, helped right the car and then summoned help. The local station of state police was notified and appeared shortly at the scene of the accident. Dr. O. S. Hult, Delta county coroner, was also summoned. According to his report, Hough was instantly killed, suffering a broken neck.

Jack L. Hough was born in Highland Park on February 27, 1926. When he was about two months old the family moved to Manistique and he has made his home here ever since. He attended the local schools and graduated from Manistique high school with the Class of 1944. A month after his graduation he entered the Navy. He attended a service school at Mount Pleasant and was later assigned to duty on the USS Asa-Bethel Baptist church and of the Manistique post of the American Legion.

Surviving him are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Hough, a sister, Margaret Louise, attending school at East Lansing; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stanness of Manistique.

Funeral services will be held at the Morton Funeral Home at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The rites will be in charge of the Rev. Harold Martinson and burial will be in Fairview cemetery. Services at the graveside will be conducted by the American Legion.

Fugitive From Justice Kills Self To Avoid Capture At Manistique

Manistique — Two state police officers from the Manistique post last night caught up with a fugitive from justice, wanted in several states, but their man took his own life with a pistol bullet as capture appeared near on Manistique's west side. The felon was identified later as Alex Adam Karachoon, 51, alias Frank Johnson, who was listed in police records as facing forgery charges in four states.

Acting on an anonymous tip, which informed them that a man named Alex wanted on bad check charges was hiding in the west side home of D. Russell with plenty of guns and ammunition, state troopers Otto Buelow and O. Scholander went to the Russell house on Mackinac avenue. As they made inquiries at the front door, a man dashed out the back way and the troopers gave chase, heading him off at Chipewau avenue. Turning is if to give himself up, the fugitive put an automatic pistol to his temple and fired, killing himself instantly.

Coroner George Morton, Sheriff Howard Hewitt and assistant police chief Elmer Anderson were called and took charge of the body. A search of the dead man's pockets turned up a key to a locker at the Soo Line depot, and in the locker the officers found a bag which identified the victim. Blank checks were found from banks in half a dozen states, including one made out for $2,875. There was also a letter from the Soviet embassy, apparently in reply to one sent by Karachoon protesting his conviction in Nebraska for a felony. The embassy informed Karachoon that he was no longer regarded as a citizen of the USSR and that nothing could be done for him.

The man was identified as a native of Russia and an ex-convict, having served terms in the reformatory at Anamosa, Iowa, and Lincoln, Neb., for offenses dating back to 1919.

The body was taken to the Morton funeral home.

Speed Skating Races At 2 p.m. Today; Winter Queen To Be Crowned

RINK IN SHAPE ON 19TH STREET

Wisconsin And Canadian Entries Expected; Throne Erected

The coronation of Queen Patsy Ammel will climax the Escanaba Open Speed Skating Races which will start at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the 19th street rink, with competitors entered from Upper Michigan, Wisconsin, and perhaps from Canada.

Furnishing the first, and possibly the last, occasion Escanaba fans will have a chance to see the Bay de Noc speedsters in action against out-of-town competition, the Escanaba Open is a substitute, though not greatly inferior, meet for the Bay de Noc National Championships which had to be called off last week because of the condition of the Ludington Park rink.

Ironically enough, the ice of the 19th street rink is in beautiful condition for skating, but the rink itself is too small for a National Championship meet, which must be recognized by the Amateur Skating Association and conform to its rules. The course laid out on the 19th street rink for today's skating is, by ASA rule, two laps short of a mile.

Ishpeming Jumper Takes Class C Ski Title At St. Paul

St. Paul, Feb. 8 (AP)—George Kodarek of Duluth, former National and Central United States class A ski jumping champion leaped 164 and 151 feet today to take a senior class title in the Central United States championships.

Wilbur Rasmussen of Ishpeming, Mich., won the Class C title with jumps of 149 and 152 feet.

Jumpers in Class A and Class B will compete Sunday afternoon.

George Pera of Ironwood, Mich., Class C defending champion, fell on his first jump and did not make another try.

Top performers in the Central meet will compete in the National tournament at Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 22 and 23 to select competitors in the Olympic trials at Seattle, Wash., March 23 and 24.

Coronation Ceremonies

The afternoon will be climaxed by the crowning of Queen Patsy Ammel by Dr. Roy Johnson, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. All pomp and ceremony will be observed.

Medals and ribbons will be awarded winners in the following events:

Senior Men (Over 18)—220, 880 and the mile.

Senior Women (Over 18)—220, 880.

Intermediate Boys (16-18)—220, 440, 880.

VFW TO PLAY AT MARINETTE

Local Vets Also Will Oppose Manistique Here Tuesday

The Escanaba VFW team will meet the Northern Improvements of Marinette tonight at the Marinette Armory at eight o'clock. Tuesday night the Vets will open a five-game home stand, with the Manistique Hubs providing the opposition.

The Marinette game was scheduled to be played a week ago but was postponed to avoid conflict with the Marinette winter carnival.

Jug Girard, sparkplug of the Marinette club, now attending the University of Wisconsin, will be in the lineup of the Northern Improvements, it was reported yesterday.

The VFW starting lineup will be Kesler and Kuchenberg, forwards; Fisher, center; Pryal and Widenreich, guards; Hartman and Schram also will see action.

Members of the club are asked to meet at the VFW headquarters at 5:30 p. m.

Menominee Takes Marquette, 36-30

Menominee, Feb. 8.—Menominee high school's basketball team won a 36 to 30 game here tonight from Marquette. The score was the same by which Marquette lost to Ishpeming last night.

The locals took the lead in the first quarter and held it through out although never able to pull far ahead.

In the preliminary Powers defeated the Menominee reserves. The visitors trailed until the closing minutes when a determined assault on the net brought them the lead.

Schram and Ruwitch of Escanaba officiated both games.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Coach Jim Rouman of the hapless Eskymos basketball team was somewhat dejected Friday night, not only because the Eskymos continued the longest losing streak in EHS history but also because of several bad breaks that played a part in the 48-31 trimming at the hands of the Iron Mountain Mountaineers. Most important was the fact that the Eskymos had the misfortune to catch the Mountaineers when the Dickinson county boys were hotter than a rapid-fire pistol. Tuesday night when Iron Mountain played Norway, Coach LaJeunesse's boys couldn't find a thing. Then Friday night at Escanaba, they couldn't miss.

Towards the close of the third period, the Eskymos were moving along at a neat clip, picking up momentum rapidly. Just when it appeared that they might overtake the visitors, the third period ended and that

Fairlyland Fantasy Dress Rehearsals To Be Held Today

There will be a complete dress rehearsal for the cast of "Fairlyland Fantasy" this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Parents who drive their children to the ice rink are requested to instruct the children to call them (the parents) by phone when they (the children) are ready to come home.

In order to make an orderly rehearsal at all possible, no one but the cast will be allowed in the building. Your thoughtfulness in this matter will be appreciated.

The following girls are wanted at the ice rink Monday night from 7 to 8: Betty Roush, Caroline Winchester, Joyce Dupont, Barbara LaRue, Lois Peterson, Rose Mary Todd, Beverly Feldstein, Ruth Vau and Elaine Beck.

From 8 to 9 Monday night all those in the Cinderella group are wanted.

From 9 to 10 Monday night all those in the Gypsy group are wanted.

All solo numbers will be notified by telephone as to their rehearsal time.

Dartball

A 28 hit attack by Central Methodist in the opening game, last Tuesday, wasn't enough to keep St. Stephens from posting their sixth victory in seven starts. Central took the first game 14 to 3, but dropped the last two 2 to 3 and 5 to 10.

Bethany Lutheran had things easy in disposing of First Methodist 8 to 2 and 4 to 1. Hitting home runs V. Anderson, Bethany Lutheran, G. Nelson of Bethany posted the second highest hitting mark for an evening's play by connecting safely in 11 of 14 attempts, for a .786 average.

This week's schedule:

Central Methodist at Bethany Lutheran; First Methodist at St. Stephens.

ord-breaking attempt in the Michigan State relays is that the present indoor dirt track record in 300 of 31.2 seconds was set by a Michigan State runner, Fred Alderman, in the Illinois Fieldhouse in 1926. The Spartans claim that mark as a world's record for the 300 on an indoor dirt track.

Brown Blur Aims At 300-Yard Relay Record At MSC

East Lansing, (AP)—Herb McKenley, Jamaican fleet-foot from the University of Illinois, will go after the world's indoor (dirt track) 300 yard record here today in the 25th annual Michigan State relays.

The "Brown Blur," who last spring established an unofficial world's mark of 46.2 seconds in the 440 yard dash at the Western Conference Outdoor Meet, heads a hand-picked field of six in the special invitational event.

Expected to be on McKenley's heels all the way is Charley Parker, pre-war Texas schoolboy spring sensation who will be making his first collegiate appearance. Parker is on the University of Texas' squad. Last summer, running in Japan, he unofficially tied the world's 100 meter record of 10.1 seconds. He turned in a 9.5 100 yard dash in high school.

The other four entries in the 300 will be Dick Forrestell of Michigan, William Haidler of Navy, Dan Murphy of Notre Dame and Henry Altepeter of Northwestern.

McKenley last summer unofficially established a world's outdoor record of 29.8 seconds in the 300, four-tenths of a second better than Charley Paddock's 30.2 mark set in 1921.

The irony in his scheduled record-breaking attempt in the Michigan State relays is that the present indoor dirt track record in 300 of 31.2 seconds was set by a Michigan State runner, Fred Alderman, in the Illinois Fieldhouse in 1926. The Spartans claim that mark as a world's record for the 300 on an indoor dirt track.

Harry's Oilers, Big Jo Tilt Will Be Sunday Thriller

Munising—Munising basketball fans will be treated to another Sunday basketball thriller when Harry's Sinclair Oilers of Munising meet the Big Jo Bakery quintet from Stambaugh at the Ma-thur high school gym in Munising at 3:15 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 9.

MICHIGAN BACK IN TITLE RACE

Ohio State Beaten, 56-53 In Basketball Match At Ann Arbor

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 8 (AP)—Michigan snapped out of a two-game losing streak and got back into the thick of the Western Conference title battle tonight by beating Ohio State 56-53 in a closely fought basketball tilt before 4,300 spectators at Yost Field House.

The lead changed hands several times and the score was tied three times in a wild, rough second half.

Within the final minute three Buckeyes, Bob Donham, Jack Underman and Paul Huston, were banished with five personal fouls, and Michigan, anxious to hold the ball, declined all of the free throws.

The Wolverines had difficulty finding the range from the field and the free throw line throughout the first half and at intermission were trailing 25-26. Only the long shots of Harrison and Forward Mack Suprunowicz kept the Wolverines within striking distance of the Ohioans.

The score was tied 45-45 in the final five minutes, when Forward Boyd McCaslin put the Wolverines in front with a shot from the foul circle and Harrison added a free throw. Amling and Bowen struck back with a field goal and free throw, but Harrison slipped in another looping shot that gave the Wolverines a 50-48 lead.

Centers Boyd Roberts and his substitute, Irvin Wisniewski, dropped in two more points from the free throw line and Mack Suprunowicz sneaked in for a lay up which was Michigan's last score until Harrison got loose while the Buckeye defense was drawn deeply into Michigan territory.

The win was Michigan's 11th straight on its home court since Dec. 22, 1945, when Indiana won an overtime victory.

Rapid River Drops Thriller To Cooks

The Rapid River high school basketball team lost a heart-breaker to Cooks Friday night, 35 to 34, the winning point being scored by Leveille on a free throw in the last second of the game.

It was a ding dong game from start to finish. With the score tied at 34-all and an overtime battle shaping up, Leveille was fouled just as the clock was about to stop. He calmly stepped up to the line and dropped the ball through the hoop for the winning point of the game.

In the preliminary, the Rapid River Reserves defeated Cooks, 37 to 10.

Newberry Foe For Gladstone Indians At Hockey Today

Gladstone — The Gladstone Indians will clash with Newberry this afternoon on the local rink in a game that marks the first meeting of hockey teams of the two cities. The face-off is set for 2 o'clock.

Newberry is reported to have a flashy outfit although they have been defeated by the Escanaba Hawks on two occasions this season.

The recreation building at the playground is to be heated for use of spectators as a warming house.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all the kind neighbors and friends who assisted us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Anna Bures. We are very grateful to Rev. F. J. Franks for his comforting words and other manifestations of sympathy, to those who served as pallbearers, donated the use of their cars, sent floral and spiritual bouquets and to all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us. Signed: THE FAMILY OF MRS. ANNA BURES. 2104-40-11

Tell her with an OOMPHIES Valentine

Romantic little Oomphies will tell her so prettily how much you think of her—and then go right on telling her day after day!
Oomphies are so divinely comfortable, underneath all that prettiness, that she'll wear them and wear them and wear them
—and think you're specially wonderful for having thought of an Oomphies valentine.
